Congratulations

Thank you for purchasing URC’s MX-990 Universal Remote Control. This remote provides one-touch simplicity when using today’s more complicated audio/video configurations. When used with an optional RF base station this remote can wirelessly control devices without needing line-of-sight throughout your home or small business. Controlling your system is simple with the MX-990.

Features and Benefits

● One-Touch Automation
  A series of commands may be programmed on a single button making it convenient and efficient to perform the most common activities. A single press can turn on your home theater, close the shades, dim the lights, and start your favorite movie. With this customizable remote, the possibilities are endless!

● Wireless Control
  The MX-990, when paired with an optional RF base station, allows for wireless control of your devices without the need for line-of-sight control (IR). This means your equipment can be housed separately (in a cabinet, another room or a different floor) and still easily controlled without the annoyance of aiming the remote. Your electronics can be completely out of sight, but still at your command!

● Customizable User Interface
  The MX-990’s brilliant 2.4” color display is completely customizable by a URC Certified Professional Custom Integrator. With their expertise it is possible to add custom graphics, sounds, personalized layouts and themes to match your styles and tastes.
• Scheduled Event Timers
  Use your MX-990 to help automate common activities and commands by scheduling events (programmed by your Custom Integrator) to execute on your schedule. Set a Goodnight event timer to turn off lights, TV’s and music at your normal bedtime every night of the week. A Good Morning event timer could wake you up to your favorite news channel. Once your Custom Integrator programs the activity, it is up to you to enable or disable the event’s execution at the scheduled time.

• Pick-Up Sensor
  The MX-990’s integrated pick-up sensor allows the remote to come to life the moment its position is changed. Lift the remote and it immediately wakes up, turns on the backlight, illuminates the LCD screen, and is instantly ready to control your home.
